

Citizen Interest Sought

AN ADVISORY committee—all volunteers—is charged with furthering the development of an Upper Delaware Valley Flood Control Council faces the immediate task of recruiting citizen action on both sides of the Delaware River from Hancock, N. Y., to Easton, Pa.

That means that municipal, civic and service organizations in communities in the Delaware River basin as it affects a portion of New York State, New Jersey and all of the eastern area of Wayne, Pike, Monroe and portion of Northampton County must be contacted.

Lack of Representation

Thursday night's preliminary meeting of those interested in development of the council, was noticeably lacking in representation from New Jersey.

Decision to expand the council's scope to include the river basin from Port Jervis, N. Y., to Hancock, N. Y.—bound on the west by Wayne County, Pa., and on the east by Sullivan and at top of Orange County, N. Y., was made after Lt. Col. John Lee, Corps of Engineers flood expert, spoke.

While great emphasis was placed on the council as a "flood control organization," Robert A. Harrier, Pen Argyl, vice president of American Watershed Commission and executive director of Lehigh Valley Flood Control Council, said these other factors must be included in council activities.

Study and survey of the watershed from the standpoints of recreation and water use for drinking and industrial purposes, including irrigation.

Nucleus Group

Those who signed up as volunteers to spread the organization of the council included:

William Allier, Eastern Poconos Resort Assn.; Mrs. Emma Knob, Stroudsburg Woman's Club; Stewart Pipher, Tannersville and Ralph Paul, Stroudsburg, Central Labor Union; John K. Britton and Vance P. Britton, both Bushkill region; Harry A. Ahner Jr., Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau; Rep. August Metz Jr., Pike County; County Commissioner Jay Schrock, Matamoras; John E. Edrany, Dingmans Ferry; representatives both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg—Edward R. Lawson and Chief Burgess Jesse Flory, respectively; Norman Dietrick for directors of Monroe County Soil Conservation District in Stroudsburg; Marshall Reese for Barrett Welfare Association; H. G. Heller, asst. general manager of The Daily Record; and Merle C. Ostrom, assistant publisher of The Daily Record and director of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce.

Top Russian Rulers To Visit Britain

LONDON, March 9 (UPI)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev will sail up the River Thames April 18 in a Soviet cruiser to start 10 days of talks and tours throughout Britain.

The British Foreign Office pushed plans today for the visit of the juncture Russian rulers despite protests from many Britons—including a demand to "keep the Red beasts out"—and from thousands of refugees from Iron Curtain countries who now live in London.

The visit, the Foreign Office said, will last two days longer than was expected last July when, with the soothing spirit of Geneva in the air, Prime Minister Eden offered Britain's hospitality.

It will be an elaborate affair with even an advance agent, Georgi Malenkov, who preceded Bulganin as premier, will precede Bulganin and Khrushchev on their British tour.

Fire In Which 12 Died Blamed On Stove, Blast

OXFORD, Pa., March 9 (UPI)—Authorities today said an overheated stove, or possibly an explosion caused a fire which took the lives of 12 members of a single family in this southeastern Pennsylvania region.

They inclined at first to credit a theory that foul play might have been involved, but discarded it after a day's investigation.

Those who died in the fire last night were identified as the wife, children, and grandchildren of John Twyman, a 36-year-old Negro truck driver, who came home just as the last body was being removed.

Reconstructing the tragic scene by means of a drawing, Fire Marshal Robert M. Brown said the building was a two-room, tar-papered one with three beds. Seven of the children were in one bed.

AN H-21 HELICOPTER of the 509th Transportation Company brings in a cargo net with 2,000 pounds of ammunition during a training exercise at Fort Belvoir, Virginia. The helicopter unit is assigned to the Washington, D. C., area to support prescribed missions of the military district.

Sen. McClellan Is Reported In Line To Take Over As Lobby Inquiry Chairman

WASHINGTON, March 9 (UPI)—Settlement of a dispute that has stalled the organization of a new Senate lobby investigating committee was reported in prospect late today.

Indications were that Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) would be asked to serve as chairman of the special bipartisan group in place of Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), who is reported to have decided that he is unacceptable to the Republican members.

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.), taking note of the interparty wrangling on the new committee, advised the Senate to give up trying to "investigate itself" and turn the job over to a nonpartisan commission of citizens.

Neuberger is not a member of the special eight-man committee. A special committee of four Democratic and four Republican senators was appointed Feb. 23 to make a broad investigation of campaign contributions, lobbying and any improper influences on senatorial voting.

Only One Meeting

But so far the committee has held only one meeting and is deadlocked over rules on how to conduct the inquiry.

"A special commission removed from the political arena," Neuberger told the Senate, "is needed to restore the confidence of the American people that they are, in fact, being told the full story about their process of government and politics."

"In all candor, people wonder why senators who were elected with substantial campaign funds raised by large, private contributions can inquire into other senators' campaign exchequers."

Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.) proposed last Tuesday that a fifth Democrat be appointed to the special committee to give it a Democratic majority and a better chance, he said, to get off the ground.

Sees Money Last

McNamara contended the $350,000 appropriated for the lobbying investigation might be "thrown away" if the inquiry is conducted by a group evenly divided between the two political parties.

But Neuberger argued a citizens commission would be better.

Six Die In Crash

COOPERSVILLE, Mich., March 9 (UPI)—Six persons, four of them members of one family, were killed tonight in a head-on collision of two cars on U. S. Highway 16 near this western Michigan community.

Lenten Meditation

By Rev. Elias Jones

Beckleyville, Portland Baptist Churches

"Behold Your King," John 19, 14.

"Majestic sweetness sits enthroned Upon the Saviour's brow: His head with radiant glories crowned, His lips with grace o'er flow. His lips with grace o'er flow."

"Behold Your King." These are familiar words now and very true these words of Pilate, they may soon be the words to bring great joy to the world.

Christ had already shown His power and authority when at the end of His forty days and forty nights of fasting in the Wilderness of Judea, He met His tempter the Devil. He (Christ) was victorious in the three tests through which He passed.

Because of His great hunger, Satan tempted Him first of all at this point, by saying, "If Thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread."

Christ being the Son of God, answered "It is written." Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. Deuteronomy 8:3.

Satan tempted Christ to make a great show of Himself by casting Him down from a high pinnacle of the temple and have God display His saving and keeping powers to satisfy the vanity of Satan, but Christ again quoted the Holy Scripture, "Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God."

Next, the created beings tempt the Creator of all things, for by Christ was everything made that was made. He said, "All these things will I give Thee, if Thou wilt fall down and worship me."

Satan was showing Christ the land where Canaan, the land where King David had ruled and the kingdom where Christ will one day rule and the words of Pilate will be again repeated "Behold Your King." This time Christ said to Satan, "Get thee hence, for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve." And the Devil left Him and was most glad to get away for Christ was victor over him, and not only in the wilderness but on Calvary, as well. Then our Lord ascended to the Father having finished the work that the Father had given Him to do.

Christ had already shown His power and authority when at the end of His forty days and forty nights of fasting in the Wilderness of Judea, He met His tempter the Devil. He (Christ) was victorious in the three tests through which He passed.

Because of His great hunger, Satan tempted Him first of all at this point, by saying, "If Thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread."

Christ being the Son of God, answered "It is written." Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. Deuteronomy 8:3.

Nixon's Tie-Breaking Vote Kills 90% Wheat Supports

Ike Scores Victory In Senate Test

WASHINGTON, March 9 (UPI)—President Eisenhower scored another big farm bill victory tonight with a close 46-45 Senate vote to knock out 90 per cent price supports on wheat.

Administration forces needed the vote of Vice President Nixon to break a tie.

Clerical Error

The vote first was announced as 46-45 in favor of an amendment to knock the high wheat price supports out of the general farm bill.

But it was discovered shortly afterwards that a clerical error had been made on this tally.

Then, in an unusual move, the Senate ordered a recalculation of its vote. The new tally showed the true result was 45-45.

This tie gave Nixon the right to cast his vote—the only Senate situation in which he can do so—and he cast it for the amendment and thus put it over by one vote.

Actually the Senate had passed on to another vote when the error in the wheat amendment roll call was discovered.

46-41 Vote

This new vote was on a maneuver by administration forces to clinch their earlier victory. This is done by moving to reconsider the earlier vote, and then to lay that motion on the table. The administration forces carried this 46-41.

The administration barely scraped through to victory on the issue of replacing present flexible supports with rigid 90 per cent props on milling varieties of wheat. These varieties included about 96 per cent of all wheat grown.

Yesterday, on the first big test, the President's side won out by 13 votes, 54-41, in rejecting 90 per cent props on corn, cotton and peanuts.

Vote Switch Fails

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), Sen. Clements (D-Ky), the Democratic whip, Sen. Russell (D-Ga), and other leading Democrats tried for vote switches on their side before the wheat amendment tally was announced. But the only one they could persuade to reverse his vote was Sen. Green (D-R.I.).

Before taking up wheat, the Senate approved an amendment which would permit corn growers to plant 51 million acres this year and still qualify for the administration's soil bank program.

McKay To Run Against Morse

SALEM, Ore., March 9 (UPI)—Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay came here today and filed as a candidate for the U.S. Senate, setting up a major November election test with Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat and sharp administration critic.

Mckay said the National Republican Committee had asked him to do it. But "the superb example of resoluteness and courage" in President Eisenhower's decision to run again led him to decide, he said.

In 1953 McKay resigned as Oregon's governor to take the Cabinet post at President Eisenhower's request.

Endorsed by Ike

The President did not ask him to run for the Senate, McKay said today, although at the White House yesterday McKay told him he probably would.

But once McKay announced his candidacy, the President commanded and endorsed him.

"As a member of the United States Senate," the President wrote, "you will add a great deal to the working strength we need and must have in order to carry out the objectives of this administration."

Employment Dips During February

WASHINGTON, March 9 (UPI)—Rising layoffs in the auto industry contributed to a 314,000 drop in total employment in February, the Commerce and Labor departments reported today.

However, at 62,577,000, the number of jobholders was 2½ million above a year ago, while joblessness stood virtually unchanged from January at 2,914,000.

Tunisian Mob Sacks U. S. Buildings

TUNIS, Tunisia, March 9 (UPI)

A mob of Frenchmen turned from a funeral and sacked the U.S. Consulate and Information Office here today.

Some of the anger was directed against French ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

An American Embassy source in Paris said the anti-American outburst was caused by an unfounded rumor that the United States is encouraging North African terrorists.

A member of the consulate staff and his wife and child were in the office when the mob surged in. They were not molested.

$20,000 Damage

The mob went through each room smashing furniture, telephones, heaters, filing cabinets and doors. There it threw an American flag into the street. The scene was repeated at the information office. Damage to the consulate was about $20,000.

Morris Hughes, U.S. consul general, protested to French Resident General Roger Seydoux, who expressed regret of the French government.

Two French language newspaperers also were attacked. One French student was killed and several other persons were injured in battles with police. No American injuries were reported.

The U.S. Embassy source said the attack obviously "was due to ignorance of the situation."

"In so far as attacking America is concerned, it is due to an unfounded rumor that the United States is encouraging North African terrorists."

Other Embassy circles in Paris said it is well known that the United States is not giving encouragement to terrorists.

Both Dulles and Nehru appeared eager to make a show of friendship after their countries relations were put under new strain by Dulles' role this week at the SEATO Council meeting in rival Pakistan.

Nehru departed from custom to allow photographers inside the Prime Minister's residence to photograph the meeting.

Meet Four Hours

The two met for nearly four hours soon after Dulles' arrival from Karachi. After dinner they went into another long huddle. What they talked about was not disclosed.

Nehru sent a dozen truckloads of police to the airport to check any anti-U.S. demonstrations by Communists, Socialists or others.

In addition to the police there were officers and plainclothesmen in a few yards along the road into the city.

It was the kind of security usually given a visiting ruler.

Indians said Nehru's absence from the airport was no reflection on Dulles. The Prime Minister goes out only to meet heads of state.

Waiting at the airport were U.S. chief foreign office aides, U.S. Embassy personnel and newsmen.

Joint Chiefs Make Appraisal Of U.S. Defense

WASHINGTON, March 9 (UPI)

Secretary of Defense Wilson said today that the Joint Chiefs of Staff in a secret session in Puerto Rico have made a "realistic appraisal" of national defense.

He said "Republican weavers of legend" are classifying Mr. Eisenhower with Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln and, therefore, immune to criticism.

"Ike, it appears, has been prematurely canonized by the Republican party," the Pennsylvania chief executive declared. "... thus ends the myth of presidential immortality."

Wilson avoided specific answers to further questions about such things as the roles and missions of the armed forces and a long-standing controversy between the Army and Air Force over expanding Army aviation.

"They are talking about all of those things," Wilson said. He added at another point that the meeting was for a "general review of all our long-range problems."

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—Luke 17:20-21; 21:5.

By Newman Campbell

In a recent lesson we studied the prophetic statement about the coming of the kingdom of God in answer to the demand of the Pharisees, ending with the statement that "the kingdom of God is within you." That was a burning question of the day. When would the Messiah come, bringing with him the kingdom of God on earth? However, the Pharisees had already renounced the Messiah sent to them and would shortly put an end to His life on earth.

The disciples must have known that Jesus' enemies would put Him to death as soon as possible, but, looking at the temple in Jerusalem, they spoke to Him of its beauty—the decorations of precious stones and the gifts it contained. Jesus replied "the days will come in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down."

When they asked Christ when this would be, He replied, warning them not to allow themselves to be deceived, for many would follow him saying they were Christ, but His disciples should not heed them: "And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares."

"Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass and to stand before the Son of man."

In the parable of the fig tree, Christ points out how with the bursting of the leaves of the fig and all other trees, men know that summer is near. We all know that when the leaves and buds come on the fruit trees, summer is on the way, and we hope that no killing frost will blight the harvest. Let us so live that we need not fear whatever comes, but can be serene knowing that we can never live "beyond God's love and care."

MEMORY VERSE: "Heath and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away."—Luke 21:33.

This discourse of the Lord's on Tuesday of Holy week was the last day on which He spoke to assembled groups except to the disciples. After all the terrors of this day of judgment, Christ foretold, "And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory."

"And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh."

Now, nearly 2,000 years after this prophecy by our Lord, our world seems in greater turmoil than ever. Many people have prophesied the end of the world since.

Lesson-Sermon Topic Given

HOW FAITH advanced to spiritual understanding of God provides the answer to sin, lack, and other discord will be brought out in the lesson-sermon entitled "Substance" at Christian Science services Sunday.

From the King James Version of the Bible will be read the following (Romans 14:22): "Hast thou faith? Have it to thyself for God."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" is the following: "Faith, if it be mere belief, is as a pendulum swinging between nothing and something, having no fixity. Faith, advanced to spiritual understanding, is the evidence gained from Spirit, which rebukes sin of every kind and establishes the claims of God."

The Golden Text is from Hebrews (11:1): "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

Services were held at 11 a.m. at First Church of Christ Scientist, Stroudsburg.

At 7:30 p.m. Rev. Nevin Snyder, pastor of the Danielsville-Bowmanstown EUB Charge, will be the guest minister. The Keeokee pastor, Rev. C. F. Spangenberg, will be guest preacher at Weissport.

Dr. Standish has had years of experience reading X-Rays like this one. To his trained eyes, each light and shadow means something, and this understanding has given new health and new life to countless persons.

But to most of us, this X-Ray is undecipherable. To understand its message, we would have to take a new kind of reading lesson; we would have to spend long hours at study.

Like the X-Ray, many of life's questions seem at first glance unanswerable. Indeed, some are beyond man's understanding. But in Church, we can be taught a new way of reading that makes mysteries far greater than that of this X-Ray seem suddenly, miraculously clear.

If you are interested in the meaning of life for yourself and your children, then profit by the teachings of the Church that have stood the test of centuries for millions of people.

Flood Control Council Will Succeed If Valley Citizens Want It To Succeed

Selection of an advisory committee to serve as the nucleus for the Upper Delaware Valley Flood Control Council is a step in the right direction, but it is only a step.

Much groundwork must be laid before the council comes into actual being. That means that municipal and civic bodies, business and industrial groups, in fact every citizen in the Delaware basin on both sides of the river between Hancock, N. Y., and Easton, Pa., must be advised of the immediate need to form an active and representative agency to promote adequate flood protection at the earliest possible time.

Once the facts have been presented, the next step is go ahead with organization of the council on a sound and permanent basis.

This can be accomplished only with wholehearted cooperation, active participation and the greatest wisdom that can be marshalled among the people involved.

A certain amount of patience and even compromise will be necessary to set up a successful council, so a spirit of selflessness will be essential if the organization is to attain its highly important objectives.

The council's main task will come when it

It Only Seems Illogical For Soviets To Operate Under Two Separate Rules

"It is illogical that the Soviet government should desire one rule for itself and another for the rest of the world."

So said the State Department in its latest note to Moscow. The note was pointing out that while the Soviets were protesting American weather balloons over Russia, Soviet weather balloons were floating over the United States.

It may be "illogical" for the Soviets to apply different rules to themselves from those to the rest of the world. But logic seldom is a factor in Soviet action. For years the Soviets have had two sets of rules—one starts pressing its multi-fold program.

As stated at Thursday night's preliminary meeting in Milford, the first obligation is to capture and hold the attention of local officials, state legislators and the national Congress. Success or failure of the entire flood control program will turn largely on how well this phase is handled, for without sufficient funds and proper legislation, there can be no adequate flood control.

Second major obligation is to support the Corps of Army Engineers in their studies of the histories of past floods and their current studies of flood control needs.

Not to be overlooked is the third function, which is to study and survey the watershed from the standpoints of recreation and water use for drinking and industrial purposes, including irrigation.

The Upper Delaware Valley Flood Control Council has its work cut out. The task will not be easy. But it can be—it must be—accomplished. That is, if all citizens and organizations will lend their full support to making the council an up-and-going agency working for the welfare of the strategic Delaware River Valley.

for themselves and one for others.

The author of the State Department's note probably had his tongue in cheek when he wrote that sentence. But its subtlety will be lost on the Bolshevik mind.

This was a place where bluntness would have been better. We are reminded of recent advice given by Australian Ambassador Sir Percy Spender on dealings with Moscow:

"The language of recrimination should be avoided. But do not let us confuse recrimination with plain speaking, which I think is essential at all times in dealing with the Communists."

George Sokolsky Says...

Kruschchev Need Only To See What Taxes Have Done To U. S., Britain To Drop Force

Death came to Stalin, as to all men, and the least he deserves of a country which he ruled so mightily is that the anniversary of his death should be observed, either as a celebration or as a day of memory. But of this, he has now been deprived, and in such organs of slanted opinion as "Pravda" in Moscow or the "Daily Worker" in New York, he received no special mention. They can take his demise or leave it. Also they are removing his pictures from the walls, lest children grow up wondering who he is.

Thus, one who made himself into a deity, whose icons were carried in huge processions, having passed out of this world, is now declared by Herr Ulbricht of East Germany as not a Marxist classic, this same Ulbricht who used to extol Stalin as a Stalivie Wotan and in whose interest he betrayed his national and racial traditions.

Perhaps it is all for the best. We, in this country, who do not take our great men too seriously, celebrate the birth of only one universally; that is George Washington's birthday. Many states also celebrate the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Franklin D. Roosevelt's natal day is celebrated in Kentucky and the Virgin Islands, which is not as well as Robert E. Lee has done, for eight

United States and Great Britain to learn how much damage the graduated income tax can do to solid countries and how speedily it brings on socialism without overthrowing the government by force and violence.

In the first place, this income tax destroys the middle class, the bourgeoisie, which in every civilization is the core of the nation, the strong, hard-thinking, initiating, creative element that is essential to the continuance of a civilization. In fact, in Soviet Russia, one of the first acts of Bolshevism was the development of such a middle class, consisting principally of party members and those who possessed technical and artistic skills, all of whom gained special privileges. And while this was being accomplished in Soviet Russia under Stalin, this creative class is being wiped out in the Western world by the graduated income tax which, apparently collected by a host of underpaid bureaucrats, leaves men without the incentive to accomplish more than they must to get by. It also has the effect of stimulating lawlessness, for the really able find ways of evading the tax or of making for themselves special privileges which bring to them benefit which other citizens cannot have under the law.

So Mr. Krushchev need not look too far to discover how to accomplish socialism without force and violence. It can be done by taxation and has been so done in the United States and Great Britain—to mention only two countries.

Inside Washington

How Did Reds Track Down U. S.'s Weather Balloons?

Washington — The Pentagon is seriously concerned over the fact that Russia has captured United States weather balloons which floated at an altitude of 50,000 feet or more—almost 10 miles. The method by which they were tracked down is the chief cause for concern.

American officials believe that the Russians may have a good defense radar system to detect the balloons while they were sailing through the stratosphere. Moreover, they are concerned that Soviet fighter planes were able to go up that high and bring down the balloons.

Rainmaking — President Eisenhower is almost certain to ask Congress to extend the life of his Advisory Committee on Weather Control, which is due to go out of existence in a few months.

The committee recently reported that there may be something to artificial rainmaking after all, despite what the cynics have been saying.

However, so difficult is the task of determining the effectiveness of weather control that the President is almost certain to ask that the group continue its studies.

The committee, which has been investigating the matter for almost two years, found that man-made attempts to affect the weather might succeed in suppressing hail as well as inducing rain. This could bring moisture to arid regions and also save millions of dollars worth of crops which are ruined each year by hail.

Radar Eye — The far-seeing eye of Diane, largest radar set in the world, is being readied for new tasks—tracking the first man-made earth satellite and following the course of the 5,000-mile inter-continental missiles.

The peculiar part of the twin assignments is that, although both the satellite and the missiles will be launched from the Florida East Coast, Diane won't have to be moved from her present site at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Only about three seconds are required for Diane to bounce a radar beam off the moon. The signal, however, is much too weak for practical tracking purposes. Scientists will want to use other apparatus for the satellite and the missiles. Diane's observations will be mainly corroborative.

Carrying Charges — Ask any housewife, and she can tell you what the interest payments are on a family loan or household items bought on credit. However, many taxpayers are probably unaware that the government will pay seven billion $6 million dollars in interest on the federal debt in the 1957 fiscal year beginning July 1.

This is the largest sum earmarked for any one program other than national security. It is 10.7 per cent of the total budget, or 27.7 per cent, if the $40 billion for national security is excluded.

With the federal debt at about $275 billion, the average interest rate is less than three per cent, which is about half of what an individual has to pay on borrowed money.

Encouraging Reports Heard At Red Cross Drive Meeting

Rehabilitation Of Playground Begins Today

THE DRIVE to clean up and rehabilitate East Stroudsburg playground gets off to a flying (or scrubbing) start today.

A group of 39 students from the borough high school will knock down on serious work detail starting at 8:30 this morning. They'll work straight through to 2 p.m.

First items on the work agenda today will be the swimming pool, the two bath-houses and the "basement room" where swimmers store their clothing.

All of the buildings have to be scrubbed down, washed out and cleaned, then disinfected. Lewis Hastic, coordinator of the work project, said last night the students "really have their work cut out for them today."

Teachers To Help

On hand to boost the project along will be Hastic and five other faculty members from the high school. Other adults will also be serving as supervisors.

The students will take time out for lunch which will be prepared and served by the Salvation Army. The lunch will be brought to the playground for the workers, according to Herman Smetz, council member, who was in charge of this phase of the operation.

Present plans call for a separate work detail every Saturday at the playground. All adults in the community are also urged to join in the work. Contacts should be made with Lewis Hastic at East Stroudsburg High School simply by calling the high school office and leaving the worker's name.

Later in the Summer—the last of June—a group of Quaker young men and women will come to the borough to aid in the rehabilitation of the playground. They will be housed at the American Legion Post Home.

Boy Injured As Bicycle, Car Collide

A 13-YEAR-OLD East Stroudsburg boy was admitted to General Hospital for observation early last night after his bicycle crashed into the side of a car parked on S. Courtland St.

Borough police said Arthur Counterman of 364 N. Courtland St., was riding his bicycle when Neal Frederick of 604 N. Courtland St. suddenly opened the door of his car.

The youngster was unable to come to a halt in time to avoid crashing into the side of the auto, police said.

Two Escapees Recaptured

TWO ESCAPEES from Farview State Hospital, who allegedly stole a car from a Mount Pocono garage in the course of their flight, have been apprehended by Illinois authorities.

Paul J. Cooke, 34, Beaver Falls, and Richard Williams of Johnstown, were nabbed Wednesday in East St. Louis, Ill., after eluding capture for five months.

Fled Last October

The pair escaped last October 4 along with four other inmates, who quickly were rounded up.

To make their escape, the two men allegedly stole several cars, police said. An auto owned by Andrew Dougher of Honesdale was later found in South Sterling. Another car was taken from Wagner's Garage in Mount Pocono. That one was recovered near Cincinnati, O.

Cooke was perpetrator of the brutal ax-shotgun slaying of his parents and sister in 1939, while Williams has a record as a notorious auto thief.

Dr. John P. Shovlin, Farview superintendent, said both men will be eventually returned. However, he added that "it will take a little time."

The escape of Cooke and Williams, and the others, last October prompted an investigation by the State Senate of security regulations at Farview. That investigation is still in progress.

Compromise Plan For Doe Season Wins Approval

HARRISBURG, March 8 (UPI)—The House Conservation and Wild Life Committee yesterday gave speedy approval to a new plan designed to solve the highly controversial law governing issuance of antlerless deer hunting permits.

The committee sent the bill, introduced only Tuesday with bipartisan backing, to the floor where it is in position for amendment and possible final action next week.

The plan calls for the Game Commission and county treasurers each to distribute 50 per cent of the total number of permits the commission decides to grant for any doe season. At present only treasurers sell the permits.

A new system of priority and choice selections would be set up to govern the 50 per cent issued by the commission. Hunters would be able to obtain the permits in person only from county treasurers.

Police Return Man Here To Face Burglary Charge

A 39-YEAR-OLD former West Virginia resident yesterday was returned here from Eastern Penitentiary to face charges stemming from the 1953 break into an East Stroudsburg hardware store.

Borough Police Travis J. Seese and Pfc. Alex G. Kearns, Stroudsburg Substation, State Police, went to Graterford yesterday morning to return George Allen Pase, formerly of Benbush, W. Va.

Chief Seese said Pase and Bernard Rumbold, also of Benbush, broke into the C. H. Travis & Son Hardware Store on S. Courtland St. on Nov. 12, 1953, and left with guns and other merchandise, valued at some $2,000.

Finished Sentence

Pase, who allegedly staged breaks in Philadelphia, Avondale and in Delaware, has just finished serving more than two years at the old Mr. and Mrs. William H. Post, Shawnee-on-Delaware.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Ruth Schores Post; two sons, Floyd and Carl, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Ralph Storms, Water Gap; a grandson; three sisters, Mrs. Durling Cortright, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. Nellie Smith, East Stroudsburg Star Route; Miss May Post, Stroudsburg RD 1; Mrs. Herbert Baker, Stroudsburg RD 1; Mrs. Clarence Treble, East Stroudsburg; brother, Joseph Post, Stroudsburg; nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at Miller funeral home, Towanda, Pa., at 2 p.m.

Passengers File Out Of Burning Bus

FIRE BROKE out in a New York-bound Greyhound bus yesterday, necessitating the transfer of its passengers to another bus.

The vehicle came to a halt near Allen Roth's Charcoal House on Route 611 after the blaze broke out near the motor.

Middle Stroud Fire Co. sent two pieces of apparatus to the scene, but firefighters were informed upon arrival that the blaze was put out with the aid of a fire extinguisher.

Although there was no immediate estimate of damage, the windows of the bus were blackened by heavy smoke. Firemen believe that an overheated exhaust pipe was the cause.

Price Township Reported Over Quota Already

RED CROSS captains reported for the first time last night and Clifford L. Cramer, drive chairman, said things looked good.

The report meeting was held at Red Cross headquarters in Court House Square, Stroudsburg. Cramer expressed enthusiasm over progress in the campaign to date.

He pointed particularly with pride to Price and Coolbaugh Townships where, he said, solicitations were going along very well.

Price Township, captained by Mrs. Rodgerick MacLeod, is reported over its quota already. Some homes are yet to be contacted in that area. Working with Mrs. MacLeod are Jean White, Viola Hallstead, Roxy Weidman and Marge Van Pelt. Mrs. James Lynch of Coolbaugh Township reported that she is confident her area will go over its house-to-house quota.

Totals Next Week

Cramer said that most townships are being solicited in a "very thorough manner." Exact financial totals of the drive will not be available on a "first report" basis, however, until the middle of next week.

This weekend and the next 10 days will see a "big push" to bring in as many dollars as possible from the house-to-house campaign, Cramer said.

In the absence of Frank S. LaBar, special gifts chairman, Mrs. Ida Kunkle, local chapter executive, said that division letters are coming in with generous contributions.

"The average donation is running about 50 percent more than last year," she said.

About 275 of these special request letters still remain to be heard from, however, Mrs. Kunkle said.

The department reported that some retail establishments—and it mentioned furniture stores in particular—are advertising they will absorb the tax until the department completes its regulations.

The new law not only prohibits a retailer from advertising that he will absorb costs but also the refunding of any such tax to the customer.

Improperly Drawn

Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen said the job of preparing regulations for administration of the new tax is being complicated by hurried drafting of the bill by Republican lawmakers.

"The bill as written by the Republican Senate is improperly drawn and complicates both the imposition of the tax and the administration of the law," he told a newsman.

"Nevertheless, we hope to have the regulations ready by the middle of next week."

The Justice and Revenue Departments are working on the new regulations which will include instructions to retailers on how and what specific items should be taxed or exempted.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

One amazing thing is that there always seems to be enough people to go around. I suppose I notice it more because of buzzing from one place to another. If you just go and sit somewhere from minutes-of-the - previous - meeting through the refreshments, you can report quite truthfully:

"It was a wonderful meeting. Everybody was there!" Except everybody wasn't there, because at the next meeting, there's another full house and a busy agenda going full tilt.

Take last night, for instance. If you were at the Junior play in Stroudsburg it seemed as if the world and his brother was right there, laughing and having a wonderful time, but when you stopped in at the Band Mother's cakewalk in East Stroudsburg there was the whole town, it seemed and then some, walking in companionable rings.

Add the people at the Eastern Star Card Party and the district Rebekahs and the Doreas Circle, and it seems as if there couldn't be anybody left.

Oh, yes? Well, just try and find a parking place downtown of a Friday night. It's worse than the old Saturday night traffic used to be, or maybe it's just my disposition that's worse. Saturday night there was usually no more urgent reason for parking in a hurry than to get to the show, or perhaps pick up some minor item you'd forgotten in the major shopping trip.

But Friday night is a working night, and driving around the block umpteen times gets no headlines written—printable ones, that is.

Scouting Cavalcade Opens This Morning At Legion Home

THE MEANING OF Scouting within the community forms the theme for the second annual "Cavalcade of Scouting" opening this morning in the American Legion Home, Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

Boy Scout troops and Cub packs from all over the Pocono District, will take part in the show. Exhibits illustrating all phases of Scout work will be set up in the exhibition hall.

George M. Rung is serving as chairman for the cavalcade. Rung emphasized last night that "all persons in Monroe County and in the entire Pocono District are not only invited to attend but are urged to stop in during the exhibition."

This is the one chance during the year that adults really have a chance to see an overall picture of Scouting's aims and purposes, local Scout officials said. They point out further that parents who have boys in Scout troops are especially urged to visit the show.

Closes at 4 p.m.

Opening time for the show is 10 a. m. It continues through 4 p. m. Between 3 and 4 p. m. two "very inspiring and important motion pictures on Scouting" will be shown, according to Rung. The films are: "The Patrol Method," which shows parents how the patrol method should work in each troop, on hikes and individual meetings and "Winter Camping," a movie showing how Scouts can make Winter trips most beneficial and helpful.

All troops taking part in the show will receive streamers acknowledging their participation. The large exhibit hall at the Legion Post Home will be lined with booths set up by separate troops.

There will also be "special live demonstrations" of part of Scouting. Included among these will be a series of exhibition dances by "The Order of the Arrow," an honorary and privileged segment of local Scouting activities, to which any boy is entitled to membership on completion of requirements.

Judge Michael J. Eagen said he would consider a motion for parole if he is convinced the defendant makes an offer of "reasonable compensation" to the estate of the deceased.

When Mendola entered his guilty

plea last week five sisters and four brothers of the slain man appeared in court with a request that Mendola be punished for the deed.

The court said there was no doubt that the shooting of Budzak was accidental, but the fact that Mendola ran away and was not captured for 45 days made it necessary that he be punished.

The court also directed that Mendola be denied the right "to hunt or trap" in Pennsylvania for a 10-year period.

Judge Eagen said he would consider a motion for parole if he is convinced the defendant makes an offer of "reasonable compensation" to the estate of the deceased.

When Mendola entered his guilty

plea last week five sisters and four brothers of the slain man appeared in court with a request that Mendola be punished for the deed.

The court said there was no doubt that the shooting of Budzak was accidental, but the fact that Mendola ran away and was not captured for 45 days made it necessary that he be punished.

The court also directed that Mendola be denied the right "to hunt or trap" in Pennsylvania for a 10-year period.

Judge Eagen said he would consider a motion for parole if he is convinced the defendant makes an offer of "reasonable compensation" to the estate of the deceased.

EAST STROUDSBURG High School held a physical examination for its baseball candidates on Thursday and 61 diamond hopefuls reported to the gymnasium. The turnout included approximately 30 freshmen. Stroudsburg High has held several meetings and viewed a film, but no official call candidates has been issued. Entries in the Monroe County League are also getting the diamond equipment ready, so spring must be just around the corner.

Reports making the rounds yesterday indicate that the annual Monroe County Track and Field Day will be held this May as has been the case for the past two years. Floyd Williams, former Stroudsburg High athlete now home on leave from his Naval post in Bermuda, was discharged from the Monroe County General Hospital on Wednesday after having his appendix removed. Williams once played baseball, basketball and football at the W. Main St. school.

SURPRISE
The surprising part of the voting resulted in the fact that Palmerston's brilliant Bob Mikky picked up only 32 votes, while his teammate, Terry Eckert, and Jerry Simcoe, Northampton, were presented perfect marks of 35 votes.

Second team berths went to Serge Salivonchik and Dick Petro, both of Cataqua; Pete Gulden, Palmerston; Bill Rehrig, Lehighton, and Bill Marks, Whitehall.

No coach was allowed to vote for his own players.

Stassen Cites 'Net Advantage' Of Trade Talks

By Gardner L. Bridge
WASHINGTON, March 9. Harold E. Stassen said today that embargoes salvaged by this country at the 1954 Paris trade conference may help it win the race to develop an intercontinental guided missile ahead of the Russians.

Stassen urged investigating senators not to discount what he called the "net advantage" realized by the United States from the conference.

Before mentioning the guided missile, Stassen pictured this country as having been pressured by its allies into agreeing to the sale of machine tools and other goods to Russia in order to preserve the system of international trade controls.

This moved Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, to remark that "some of our allies are more interested in trade for profit" than in preserving the peace.

Stassen took exception to McClellan's comment as "maligning our allies."

Both Stassen and Secretary of Commerce Weeks contended the trade agreement worked to the "net advantage of the United States" by preserving the system under which Western nations refuse jointly to sell certain strategic goods to Communist nations.

Mcclellan Disagrees

McClellan, who has been sharply critical of the 1954 agreement, refused to go along with this view. He said he still believes the agreement was "not a gain ... we lost."

Weeks testified that to the extent that the 1954 agreement kept controls alive "we did make some gain." The alternative, he said, was to have "none at all."

Stassen, who now is special assistant to President Eisenhower on disarmament problems, quarter-backed the U.S. negotiators at the Paris conference in August 1954. He said he was not the chief U.S. negotiator on the scene, as other government witnesses have described him, but played his role from long range.

He told the subcommittee of mounting pressure from Western allies who needed more export markets after the Korean War ended in 1953.

This pressure finally reached a point, he said, where "it was no longer possible to hold the higher level of controls" which this country felt should be kept on trade with Russia.

Stock Gains Range Up To Five Points

NEW YORK. March 9 (P)—The great bull market in stocks roared on today to another new record high in one of the strongest advances of the year.

Gains were numerous and extensive, running from 1 to better than 5 points in almost all major divisions.

Non-ferrous metals were in the forefront of the hard drive ahead and showed the best of the big gains.

There was no reluctance on the part of other divisions to follow right along—the steels, motors, railroads, oils, and chemicals most prominent and rubbers, farm implements, airlines, distillers, motion pictures and building materials trailing. The aircrafts were quietly higher.

Part of Big Push

Brokers said there was no specific news to account for today's unusual strength. The performance was simply part of the big advance the market has been making ever since President Eisenhower said he would run again.

Added to that situation were continuation of high profits reports, sustained and increased dividends, and proposals and prospects of splits.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $2.00, the third best rise of the year. It closed at $185.40, a new record high.

It is interesting to recall that exactly 13 months ago today, the AP average of 60 stocks first exceeded the old 1929 historic high of $157.70.

The industrial component of the average today was up $3.60 at a new high of $284.70, rails were up $1.40 at $141.50, and utilities were up 30 cents at $74.80.

Volume of 3,430,000 was the second highest total of the year, exceeding only by the 3,500,000 shares traded Feb. 20 when the President said he would run again. Yesterday's total in an advancing market was 2,500,000 shares.

There were 1,200 shares traded of which 671 advanced and 228 declined with 99 new highs and 6 new lows for the year touched.

Trading was very heavy on the American Stock Exchange at 1,600,000 shares with prices strong.

What's A Chaperone?

NEW YORK. March 9 (P)—Cook's tours are looking for a new name for "chaperone" and are having so much trouble finding it, they've offered a $200 prize to the young person 18 to 28 who can produce the best synonym.

The travel agency began its search after it discovered that young people still like to travel chaperoned, but feel the word "smacks too much of overstrict parental authority."

The third degree was received by 90 second degree members from Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Tamaqua, Beaver Meadow and other areas.

The degree team consisted of 30th District Deputy Eugene W. Cannon, Sixth District Deputy William W. May Jr. and members of the Hazleton Council and Bantam Council. Refreshments were served following the degree.
